Fresh New Voice for Poway. Fearless Advocate. Real Neighbor.

I am running for City Council to bring positive change, new ideas, and greater accountability and transparency to Poway's city government.

As a lifetime Poway resident, my priority is representing residents — not developers or outside interests — and focusing on collaborative, common-sense solutions for our city.

I grew up in Green Valley and raised our family in Vineland Hills. I have served as President of the Vineland Hills HOA, Secretary of the Green Valley Civic Association, and Chair of the Poway Budget Review Committee. I've volunteered with local schools and youth sports and am a member of Poway's Chamber of Commerce, always working to strengthen the community I love.

With an economics degree from UCLA, I am committed to responsible budgeting and long-term financial stability.

I will advocate for development that respects community-approved plans for The Farm, and for increased setbacks and limited building heights along Poway Road. I support resident involvement in planning decisions (volunteer planning commission), sensible term limits, strong public safety, and protecting Poway's parks, trails, and open space.

I would be honored to earn your support.
